NEW YORK, Dac. 26 .- During the Stokes trial this afternoon, new evidence of a startling character was offered. Andrew Parker testified that some six weeks before Fisk was murdered, he (Parker) was introduced to Stokes, and in a conversation which ensuel as to trials then pending. Stokes said Fisk was a blackmailer and said he (Stokes) would shoot Fisk and said he (Stokes) carried a pistol Stokes repeated that Fisk was was a blackmailer twice. At this point Stokes became very much excited and rose up before he could be prevented, saying: "This is false, all false." On crossexamination witness stated he had been removed by Fisk from running a hotel at Meadville, Pennsylvania, owned by the Erie railroad, and on stating the fact to Stokes, the latter made remarks about Fisk blackmailing him, and made threats to shoot Fisk. After a recess some additional testimony was offered. Nothing new was elicited in the evidence. The prosecution closed, and Townsend opened for the defense.
